ADDITIONAL BUSINESS & CONSULTING OPPORTUNITIES

Entry-Level Jobs at the NFL - Junior Rotational Program

Think working for the National Football League sounds cool? The NFL is currently recruiting for the 2012 Junior Rotational Program, an entry-level program for students graduating in the 2011 to 2012 school year.

Placement opportunities within the NFL are based on business needs and individual performance. Current participating areas include Communications & Public Affairs, Events, Finance, Football Operations & Officiating, International, Marketing & Sales, and Media. Upon completion of the program, participants may pursue further education, opportunities at NFL clubs and partner organizations, or opportunities outside the NFL.

Location: New York City

Application Deadline: October 26

Apply online by clicking here.

Program participants will complete several rotations over a defined period. During each rotation, participants are placed in a department for 6 to 12 months with project-based assignments. In addition, participants will receive comprehensive orientation and training, mentor assignments with upper management and the opportunity to network with other Junior Rotational Program participants.

2-year Business Start-up Fellowship

Do you want $100,000 to start your own company? Venture for America looking for college grads for a 2-year business start-up Fellowship. As a Fellow, you would work with a start-up for 2 years. At the end of the 2 years, the Fellow who performed the best will receive $100k as a seed investment to either start their own company or put into the company they worked with during the Fellowship. Fellows receive training prior to working with their start-up and meet bi-weekly with other Venture Fellows.

Apply now: applications are due by November 1. For more information, visit <http://www.ventureforamerica.org/fellows>.

NYC Fashion Industry Jobs

Interested in the fashion industry? Want to live and work in NYC? Check out Fashion Draft NYC, a unique opportunity that connects top business-minded talent from around the globe with New York City fashion firms.

An initiative of the New York City Economic Development Corporation (NYCEDC) and Parsons the New School for Design, Fashion Draft NYC will select 25-30 graduating college seniors from around the world and bring them to New York City, all expenses paid, to interview for management-track positions with some of the City's top fashion firms. In addition to the interviews (for roles such as buying and marketing), students will have the opportunity to learn more about the business side of the industry through behind-the-scenes company tours, networking with fashion industry executives, and keynote addresses. The program will take place from Feb. 16-18, 2012.
